

Position: Mentored Small Animal Emergency Position- Immediate Start Possible

Where: Greater Staten Island Veterinary Services

Website: www.gsivetservices.org

Location: Staten Island NY

Greater Staten Island Veterinary Services is a 24/7 referral and emergency hospital. It is staffed by specialists in Emergency and Critical Care, Internal Medicine, Surgery, and Cardiology as well as several experienced emergency doctors (including several Ross grads!). We are actively recruiting other specialists and are supported by the specialists at our main hospital in New Jersey, Garden State Veterinary Specialists (www.gsvs.org).

Greater Staten Island Veterinary Services opened in 2016 to service the pet owners of Staten Island and the surrounding areas. It is the only fully staffed 24/7 veterinary hospital in this borough of NYC. We have a busy emergency and in house caseload, providing a great opportunity for a recent graduate to get mentored experience in emergency medicine. Our hospital is equipped with paperless medical records, in house laboratory, digital radiography, high end ultrasound, two surgical suites, dental radiography, endoscopy, and more. Our medical support staff include a team of experienced and compassionate receptionists, assistants and technicians, including a specialty certified technician (ECC).

This opportunity is perfect for those who have an interest in a career in emergency medicine, but may not be interested in doing a standard track VIRMP internship with the goal of going on to specialize (but could also prepare applicants for that track as well). This position would provide mentored experience with both emergency and specialty services at this Staten Island location, and can also provide interested applicants with exposure to other specialties at our hospitals in New Jersey if they desire.

Emergency doctors and specialists are available for consultation at all times. Duties include mentored primary management of emergency and hospitalized cases. This will include experience with the medical management of all types of cases, as well as experience with appropriate and efficient client communication, medical records keeping, financial communications, and managing the support staff team.

This position is paid a salary above standard internship salaries. GSiVS also provides competitive compensation package for full time employees including 100% paid health, life, disability, and professional liability insurance, paid vacation, 401K with matching, licensure fees, uniforms, and discounted employee pet care. Benefits may vary with length of position committed to by employee.

We recognize that new graduate needs and wants are changing and that a classic internship is not for everyone. Our goal is to provide the opportunity for mentored experience focusing on emergency with the support of our staff doctors. We hope this provides a useful and practical experience to bridge the gap between veterinary school education and becoming a competent and confident emergency clinician. Long term employment in the GSVS network of hospitals following successful completion of this program is available for the right candidate.

Interested applicants should contact the medical director, Dr. Susan Meeking DACVIM DACVECC at susan.meeking@gsvs.org. There are opportunities to customize this experience to meet your professional goals. Please email to set up a time to discuss how GSiVS can be a great place to start your career. We would be happy to put you in touch with some of the current Ross Grad emergency doctors!
