Q: Is Financial Aid available?
A: Financial aid is available to those who apply and qualify.
Qualifying United States citizens and eligible non-citizens are eligible to receive Federal student loans through the Federal Direct Loan Program, which includes the Federal Direct Unsubsidized Loan and Federal Direct Graduate PLUS Loan.

Q: I am Canadian or another foreign national student. What financial aid options are available?
A: Several options may be available…
Canadian students may be eligible for loans through the Canadian government and/or private loan programs. Please refer to the Financial Planning Guide for Canadian Students, which is available online at https://veterinary.rossu.edu/media/11856/rusvm-canadian-financial-planning-guide.pdf, for more information. Other Foreign Nationals may be eligible for assistance in their country.

Q: How do I apply for financial aid?
A: You can apply by logging on to https://studentaid.gov/h/apply-for-aid/fafsa.
US citizens and eligible non-citizens must complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid® (FAFSA) at https://studentaid.gov/h/apply-for-aid/fafsa to determine their eligibility. When completing the FAFSA be sure to include the appropriate school code: Ross University School of Veterinary Medicine: G22779. After your FAFSA has been processed by the Department of Education, you may be required to submit additional information, such as citizenship documentation. The Office of Student Finance will notify you if you are required to submit additional information.

Q: What types of federal financial aid are available?
A: The types of Federal Direct Loans that may be available are the Federal Direct Unsubsidized Loan and the Federal Direct Graduate PLUS Loan.
US citizens and eligible non-citizens must file the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) to determine their eligibility. Once the Office of Student Finance has received your FAFSA information from the US Department of Education, we will determine your eligibility for the types of student loans listed below. Interest rates on federal student loans are based on the 10-year Treasury note plus a set percentage established by federal law. Visit https://studentaid.gov/understand-aid/types/loans/interest-rates to find current interest rates.

FEDERAL DIRECT UNSUBSIDIZED LOAN
This is a non-need-based Federal loan with a limit of $10,250 per semester. The Department of Education charges an origination fee on the funds disbursed. Visit https://studentaid.gov/understand-aid/types/loans/interest-rates to find current interest rates and loan fees.

1FAFSA is a registered trademark of the U.S. Department of Education.
FEDERAL DIRECT GRADUATE PLUS LOAN

This is a non-need-based Federal loan which the student can borrow up to the cost of attendance, less other aid. The Federal Direct Graduate PLUS is a credit based loan. If a student does not have remaining eligibility for the Federal Direct Unsubsidized Loan(s) because he or she has reached the maximum aggregate Federal Direct loan limit of $138,500, approved borrowers may be eligible for the Federal Direct Graduate PLUS Loan program up to their Cost of Attendance. Visit https://studentaid.gov/understand-aid/types/loans/interest-rates to find current interest rates and loan fees. The federal government does not offer any grants or scholarships for graduate students.

Q What options do I have if I am not credit approved for the Graduate PLUS loan and still wish to borrow this loan?

A Your options would be to apply with a credit worthy endorser or appeal the decision.

It is important to review your credit report annually. You can obtain a free copy of your credit report at www.annualcreditreport.com. If you are not initially approved for the Federal Direct Graduate PLUS loan, there are two options; file an appeal or add an endorser. The appeal process can be initiated with the Department of Education once you are informed your credit has not been approved. The Department of Education representative will contact you to advise you on the documentation needed to appeal the credit decision. If your credit cannot be repaired, you may need to add an endorser (cosigner) for the loan. Your endorser will need to log on to https://studentaid.gov with their own FSA ID. If he or she does not have an FSA ID, one can be obtained at https://studentaid.gov/fsa-id/create-account/account-info. Below is a link to advise you of the documents required to appeal particular adverse credit. Q How much financial aid can I receive if I am a US federal student aid recipient?

A You may receive financial aid up to the total cost of attendance.

This amount is intended to cover direct and indirect education related expenses such as tuition, fees, health insurance, supplies, transportation and other reasonable living expenses. Your total financial aid package, including scholarships, grants, tuition waivers, federal loans, and private loans, cannot exceed this amount. For more information regarding program cost, please click here: https://veterinary.rossu.edu/admissions/dvm-admissions/tuition-fees.

Q How is Cost of Attendance (COA) determined?

A COA includes institutional tuition and fees as well as personal expenses related to academics.

COA includes direct costs such as institutional tuition and fees, as well as indirect costs such as personal expenses that are related to academics. This would include, but is not limited to: tuition, fees (resource fee and student government fee), health insurance, books and supplies, loan fees, personal expenses, room and board, and transportation.

Personal expenses, transportation, and off campus room and board are based on the average cost of living of the island or the average national cost.

Q When will I receive my credit balance?

A You may receive your credit balance at the start of your semester.

The tuition and fees are deducted from the loan proceeds received from the Department of Education. The excess loan proceeds are intended for supplies, room and board, transportation, and personal expenses. The credit balance will be available at the start of your semester if all requirements are completed 2 weeks prior to the semester start date. You may choose a direct deposit to a US bank account or a paper check. You will receive an email to sign up for the direct deposit option approximately 3 weeks prior to the semester start. It is important only to borrow what you will need since interest starts accruing on all loans as soon as they are disbursed. You may also return any unused portion of your credit balance to your assigned federal loan servicer within 120 days of disbursement. The federal loan servicer will backdate the interest on the portion of the loan returned.

Q I have just been admitted. When do I receive my financial aid award?

A Completing the necessary forms will expedite your award.

If you completed the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) and submitted all documents requested by the Office of Student Finance, you will receive your financial aid award letter and loan instructions 2-3 weeks from the date that you are admitted and your financial aid application is complete, but no earlier than three months prior to the start of the term for which you have been admitted. For example, a student who has been admitted for the Spring term may receive his or her financial aid award letter as early as October. If you haven’t completed the FAFSA, please do so as soon as possible at https://studentaid.gov/h/apply-for-aid/ffas.

Please refer to the chart below to determine which FAFSA(s) are required based on the term in which you are admitted. FAFSA(s) for all award years can be completed at https://studentaid.gov/h/apply-for-aid/ffas.

How will I receive my financial aid?

The US Department of Education will send your loan funds directly to the Office of Student Finance.

The loan funds will be credited to your student account to pay any outstanding balance. Any excess funds will create a credit balance in your student account and the Office of Student Finance will process a credit balance payment to you. You may use this credit balance to pay for books, transportation, living expenses, or other personal expenses.

If you expect to receive financial aid from an outside agency, such as a scholarship from a non-profit organization, you should instruct them to send the funds to one of the following addresses:

Ross University School of Veterinary Medicine

PO Box 74007515

Chicago, IL 60674-7515

Overnight Address:

Bank of America Lockbox Services

Ross University School of Veterinary Medicine

Can I get financial aid to purchase a new computer?

Yes.

You may request an increase in your cost of attendance to cover the purchase of a new computer up to $1,500. You must submit a request in writing to the Office of Student Finance. Your request must include proof of purchase, such as a receipt or invoice that includes the purchase amount. If your request is approved, the Office of Student Finance will increase the amount of your Federal Direct Graduate PLUS Loan or private loan up to the full cost of your computer purchase.

What documents should I bring to St. Kitts?

Most documents do not need to be taken to St. Kitts, but if required, please have access to them electronically or have access to someone that can fax or scan them to you.

There is a slight chance you may need these documents for financial aid purposes. If these documents are required, you will be notified via email to verify your requirements on the myRoss site and submit the documents to the Office of Student Finance.
We cannot increase your Federal Direct Unsubsidized Loan if you have already accepted the maximum amount.

Please note: You may only receive a cost of attendance increase for the purchase of a computer once during your education at Ross Vet. You may not request another one if you received a cost of attendance increase for a computer in the past.
